

I am appalled by Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to run an anti-Kerry "documentary" just days before the election. This is another clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses our public airwaves free of charge, and they are obligated by law to serve the public interest. But when large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for THEM and less of what we need for our democracy.

Sinclair's actions illustrate why we need to reduce large media ownership, not permit them to grow.
Thank you.
